

With your help we can all make a difference for colorectal cancer patients

Dear Friend

We would like you to contribute to an important survey that will help us understand how patients cope with a diagnosis of metastatic colorectal cancer. This invitation is for you specifically and your answers will help us support you and other patients more effectively in the future.

Healthcare in Europe is different in every country. You might live in a country where your whole healthcare team supports you from diagnosis and you might have access to the latest treatments and medicines for your cancer as well as support from the different services. Even so, your experience is important to us because unfortunately in some countries patients are not so fortunate.

We need your answers and we will use your anonymous replies to make recommendations for change. There are no wrong answers; it's all about your experience; that's what we need to know. Without this information, health ministries will not listen to our arguments.

This is the first time a survey like this has been commissioned in Europe. We will recruit 1000 patients across Europe to make the information valuable. Please find the survey at www.europacoln.com/survey

You can also download the survey and complete a paper copy if this is easier for you.

Thank you
